

COMMUNICATION UNIT

Objective:

The objectives of K&S communication tools are:

- 1) To provide the general public with reflection opportunities on the reality and intimate link of body, heart and mind in human sexuality. As a consequence, the general public will be more aware of impacts that attitudes and behaviours have on other people.
- 2) To provide the general public with i) basic communication skills (expressing and listening to feelings) and ii) basic knowledge of the needs of partners in couple relationships.
- 3) To give the general public opportunities to reflect on positive models of relationships to help them make their own choices for a life in partnership.

Available tools:

Visual tools:

- + Video spots,
